F. H. A. State Convention In Session

Future Homemakers of America Southeast Georgia has elected delegates to the monthly meeting on Wednesday night, April 16, Harry Brunson, president.

Included in the business was the nomination of officers for the 1968-69 year. Mrs. C. F. Olliff, Jr., chairman of the nominating committee, presented the nominees. These elected unanimously were: Dr. Hunter Robertson, president; Mrs. William Smith, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Homer Canon, corresponding secretary; and vice president, Mrs. Ike Mink.

The meeting was opened with devotionals by Miss Diane Brunson, Miss Nancy Ellis and Miss Amelia Robertson, who sang a solo.

A fashion show "Sing a Song of Spring in Melody Tunes in Fashion" was presented by the Home Economics classes of Mrs. Reppard DeLoach. The girls modeled dresses made by themselves. Others in the program were Gary Witte and Johnny Meyers who gave a trumpet duet and a vocal duet by Miss Noel Benson and Miss Amelia Robertson. Mrs. Isaac Bunce accompanied the vocal numbers and Miss Lynn Collins was the accompanist for the trumpet duet.

A report of the executive board meeting was given by Mrs. Albert Deal. It was recommended that the State Officers for this section this year be June Rucker, section president; Mary Nell Proctor, Louisville, treasurer; and Eleanor Brinson of Wrightsville, parliamentarian. Carol Jean Collins, of Statesboro, is district secretary, and Phyllis Kelly of Wrens is program chairman.

In accord with the plan of rotation among the four F.H.A. districts of the state, the new president will come from this section this time. Candidates for the office are Carol Jean Collins, Marvin Pittman High School, Statesboro, Georgia; and Jan Milos, of Metter High School, Metter, Georgia. Election will take place at the state convention, and the runner-up will serve as state chairman of degrees. Two other officers from this district were elected at the recent district convention. They are Emily Hamilton of Wrens, vice-president, and June Donnelly from Wrightsville, chairman of music and recreation. Named to the offices of district secretary and program chairman for the new year are Henrietta Bass, Harlem, and Mary Ann Lassiter, of Alma.

The assistant state supervisor of homecoming education in this district is Mrs. Mary Beth Lewis, of Milledgeville. District F.H.A. adviser is Miss Cecilia Paine, of Harlem. Miss Inez Wallace of the State Department of Education in Atlanta is state supervisor of homecoming education. Mrs. J. M. Barber of Athens is state F.H.A. adviser.

C. A. P. To Hold Fund Raising

Ray Howard, Finance Officer for the Statesboro Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has announced the local CAP unit will conduct a fund-raising campaign this month. In various stores and businesses throughout the city you will see a bright blue and white CAP display offering you Swirls for Spring in return for your contribution to the local unit. Boxes of Cashew Nut Delights will sell for 50¢ each and sales on the honor system with purchasers dropping in their money and taking the candy they have bought. The Civil Air Patrol has been appt. as a "Your Neighborhood Air Force" and is gaining more popularity each day with the addition of air-minded citizens to its ranks. Support the work of the CAP in Statesboro by purchasing your Cashew Nut Delights from the stores where you see the Statesboro Civil Air Patrol display.

The first annual county-wide Marble Tournament, sponsored by Radio Station WWSN, was held recently at the Recreation Center. The contest rules and play offs were supervised by the Recreation Director, Mr. Robert H. Thompson, the youngest entrant, and son of Mr. Thompson. Todd Thompson, was the top winner. He is shown above receiving the Championship Cup from his father, R. H. (Bob) Thompson. Other winners of awards in age groups, left to right, are shown above: Todd Wilson, Robbie Hodges, Frank Dupree, Stacy Webb, Jamie Bradley, Don Long, Larry McBride, Roger Webb and Charles McBride—Dobbs photo.

Farm Loans For Housing Is Explained

An expanded farm housing loan program designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional antirecession measure was announced today by Marshall R. Thigpen, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the 4 percent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

The Bulloch County Committee, which certifies as to the eligibility of each applicant, has established the maximum loan ceiling, consists of Robert A. Wyman, Jr., Lohman DeLoach, Don Long, W. Hagan, all Bulloch County Farmers.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. Mr. Thigpen said that in addition to the financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many home modernization needs such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is 4 percent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Farmers Home Administration office located at 7 North College Street in Statesboro.

Zetterower PTA Elects Officers

"Education - In Our Changing World," was the theme for the April meeting of the Sallie Zetterower P.T.A. on Monday evening, April 14, in the school cafeteria. The president, Albert Brawley, Jr., presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker, Dr. J. D. Park, Chairman, Division of Education at GTC. Mrs. Ruth Blanton, introduced the speaker, Dr. J. D. Park, Chairman, Division of Education at GTC. Mrs. Ruth Blanton, introduced the speaker, Dr. J. D. Park, Chairman, Division of Education at GTC.

Officers elected are as follows: President, Albert M. Brawley Jr.; Vice-President, J. Shields Kennan; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Durden; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Reta Lindsey and Treasurer, Charlie G. Mathews.

The attendance award of $10 was won by Mrs. Ruth Blanton, class 1-B, and second award of $5 class 3-A.

A social hour with the seventh grade mothers as hostesses followed the program. Don Coleman announced the May P.T.A. meeting will be the annual supper for members of the Executive Committee as hostesses.

First Grade Orientation Begins Apr 28

According to an announcement made by H. P. Womack, Superintendent of Bulloch County schools, beginning the week of April 28, the "First Grade Orientation Program" for Bulloch County youngsters who will reach their sixth birthday by December first will be enrolled in school for the first time.

These first graders will come to school accompanied by their parents. Upon arrival at school they will take the child directly to the first grade classroom where they will meet the teacher and give her the information required for school entrance. The child will be left with his teacher and the parents will assemble in the designated room to meet with the county school and health officials to become acquainted with the school program. If time permits an appropriate film will be shown. The parents may eat lunch with their child in the school cafeteria.

The schedule is as follows: Monday, April 28 at 9:00 A. M.—Middleground. Tuesday, April 29 at 9:00 A. M.—Morgan. Wednesday, April 30 at 9:00 A. M.—Sallie Zetterower. Thursday, May 1 at 9:00 A. Elks Aidmore Installs Officers

The Elks Aidmore Auxiliary meeting by the presence of Mrs. Grace Kearson, who is the state president of the Georgia Aidmore Auxiliary. Mrs. Thompson, president of the Waycross Auxiliary, and Mrs. Craven, also of Waycross, accompanied Mrs. Kearson. Mrs. Kearson gave an enlightening talk about the fruitful results of the help of the Auxiliaries throughout the state to Aidmore Hospital in Atlanta.

She outlined a program for a higher goal in the coming year.

Mrs. Kearson conducted an inspiring installation service for the following new officers for 1968-69: President, Mrs. Wm. Lewis; secretary, Mrs. Howard Rittenhouse; and treasurer, Mrs. Ray Howard.

Honors Day Speaker At GTC May 5

A former Georgia Teachers College student, Dr. Floyd Watkins of Emory University, will be the speaker at the Honors Day program at Georgia Teachers College on Monday, May 5, at 10 a.m.

Dr. Watkins received his B. S. from Georgia Teachers College in 1946; M. A., Emory University, 1947; and Ph. D., Vanderbilt, 1951.

While serving as a Staff Sergeant in the U. S. Army Air Force, Dr. Watkins spent 30 months in Alaska and the Aleutians. He is co-author of "The Literature of the South," and is author of "Thomas Wolfe's Characters." He is also the author of, according to himself, "too many sorry articles on American Literature, especially Southern Literature."

Dr. Watkins is associate professor of English at Emory University.

Career Day At S. H. S.

Over 600 Juniors and Seniors from the high schools of Bulloch and Candler Counties were in attendance for Career Day at Statesboro High School, April 10, at Statesboro. Career Day was sponsored by the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club in cooperation with the Georgia Department of Labor and the Bulloch County School System. Previous to Career Day students were given questionnaires by the Georgia Department of Labor and asked to make a first and second choice in various professions and occupations. Participants on the program were selected from the preferences by the students and they included branches of Military Service, nursing, commercial fields, home economics, accounting, engineering, and a host of others.

Miss Alma Hamilton, of the Georgia Department of Labor, moderated the program on stage prior to individual and group sessions with participants and students. Miss Hamilton, whose work is that of helping select work for the individual, stated the Business and Professional Women's Club appreciated the wholehearted cooperation of all participants on the program.

Over 50 professions and occupations were represented as announced by Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson, president of the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club.

Career Day is in keeping with the club's objectives . . . one of which is to provide opportunities through education along lines of industrial, scientific, and vocational activities. The local club theme for this year is "Career Advancement Through Individual Development."

A panel discussion of tuberculosis was led by Dr. John Venable, Assistant Director of the Georgia Department of Public Health. Other prominent leaders in public health addressed the various section meetings at the convention.

Was This You?

You are a widow. You have two daughters, one of whom lives here and her husband is in the reserve and picking business. You have recently purchased a nice little home on North Main Street.

If the lady described above will call at the Times office, 25 E. Third Street, she will be given two tickets to the picture, "No Down Payment," playing today and Friday at the Georgia Theatre.

After receiving her tickets, if the lady will call at the Statesboro Floral Shop she will be given a lovely orchid with the compliments of Bill Holloway, the proprietor. For a free hair styling call Christine Beauty Shop for an appointment.

The lady described last week was Mrs. Rufus Anderson.

Local Student On GSCW Council

Miss Christine Chandler of Statesboro has been appointed as secretary of campus delegates to the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville. Miss Cynthia Cunningham of Brunswick, president of CGA, appointed the new cabinet members who were then approved by the Student Council. Those serving on the cabinet in addition to Miss Chandler are: Misses Mary Jane Owen of Porterdale; Dodi Shown of Porterdale; Alice Laver of Gordon; Toni Flynn of Macon, and Peggy Eubanks of Albany.

Barrow-Fat Cattle Show Thurs.-Fri.

Bulloch County's $3,500,000.00 livestock industry will be spotlighted this week when the boys and girls of the county will show their prize in the Barrow Show on Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock and their calves in the Fat Cattle Show on Friday morning at 9:30.

More than fifty barrows are expected to be shown in the Barrow Show and an equal number of steers for the Fat Cattle Show being held at the Co-Op Stockyard. Most of the calves were placed on feed last October and reports indicate the quality of these steers will guarantee an outstanding show. The pigs were placed on feed in January and this show will stress the value of meat type hogs for market.

The sale of both pigs and steers will be held at 2:00 o'clock at the Co-Op Stockyard.

Judges for the two shows will be Tap Bennett of Savannah, director of Agricultural Development, Central of Georgia Railway, and Ralph Williams of Athens, Livestock Specialist, College of Agriculture Extension Service. This show is sponsored by the Bulloch County Livestock Committee in cooperation with the business leaders and other organizations in Bulloch County, and is composed of W. C. Hodges, Roscoe Roberts, Lehmman DeLoach, J. H. Wyatt and J. P. Folds. The finance committee is composed of Ray Williams, J. P. Folds, J. H. Wyatt, E. E. Gray, Johnny Spence and W. C. Hodges, and is responsible for securing the money for prizes that is furnished by Bulloch County organizations and businesses.

The show committee is composed of R. P. Minkell, Johnny Spence, Emerson Proctor, Bradley, John L. Akins, C. P. Brinson and Edgar Hart. The show will be under the leadership of a committee headed by J. H. DeLoach, Gordon Hendrix and J. H. Martin.

Arrangements for the show are being handled by Roy Powell, Bill Brown, Gary Lee, Lehmman DeLoach, and James Akins in cooperation with the other organizations.

Hold Annual Meeting In Savannah

The Governor of Georgia and the Georgia State College for Women will meet in Savannah, Georgia, for the annual meeting of the Georgia State College for Women. The meeting will be held at the Georgia State College for Women, Savannah, Georgia, on Monday, April 28, at 9:00 A. M.

The Governor of Georgia will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. George. The Georgia State College for Women will be accompanied by its president, Miss Cynthia Cunningham, and its vice president, Miss Mary Jane Owen.

Local Student On GSCW Council

Miss Christine Chandler of Statesboro has been appointed as secretary of campus delegates to the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville. Miss Cynthia Cunningham of Brunswick, president of CGA, appointed the new cabinet members who were then approved by the Student Council. Those serving on the cabinet in addition to Miss Chandler are: Misses Mary Jane Owen of Porterdale; Dodi Shown of Porterdale; Alice Laver of Gordon; Toni Flynn of Macon, and Peggy Eubanks of Albany.

Barrow-Fat Cattle Show Thurs.-Fri.

Bulloch County's $3,500,000.00 livestock industry will be spotlighted this week when the boys and girls of the county will show their prize in the Barrow Show on Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock and their calves in the Fat Cattle Show on Friday morning at 9:30.

More than fifty barrows are expected to be shown in the Barrow Show and an equal number of steers for the Fat Cattle Show being held at the Co-Op Stockyard. Most of the calves were placed on feed last October and reports indicate the quality of these steers will guarantee an outstanding show. The pigs were placed on feed in January and this show will stress the value of meat type hogs for market.

The sale of both pigs and steers will be held at 2:00 o'clock at the Co-Op Stockyard.

Judges for the two shows will be Tap Bennett of Savannah, director of Agricultural Development, Central of Georgia Railway, and Ralph Williams of Athens, Livestock Specialist, College of Agriculture Extension Service. This show is sponsored by the Bulloch County Livestock Committee in cooperation with the business leaders and other organizations in Bulloch County, and is composed of W. C. Hodges, Roscoe Roberts, Lehmman DeLoach, J. H. Wyatt and J. P. Folds. The finance committee is composed of Ray Williams, J. P. Folds, J. H. Wyatt, E. E. Gray, Johnny Spence and W. C. Hodges, and is responsible for securing the money for prizes that is furnished by Bulloch County organizations and businesses.

The show committee is composed of R. P. Minkell, Johnny Spence, Emerson Proctor, Bradley, John L. Akins, C. P. Brinson and Edgar Hart. The show will be under the leadership of a committee headed by J. H. DeLoach, Gordon Hendrix and J. H. Martin.

Arrangements for the show are being handled by Roy Powell, Bill Brown, Gary Lee, Lehmman DeLoach, and James Akins in cooperation with the other organizations.

Rev. Miles Wood Attends Assembly

Rev. Miles Wood, pastor of the Statesboro Presbyterian Church will be one of four Presbyterians who will represent Savannah Presbytery as Commissioners to the 98th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. Dr. E. C. Scott, Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, has announced here that Rev. Wood has been placed on the Assembly's Standing Committee on World Missions for the Assembly meeting, Charlotte, N. C., and its First Presbyterian Church will be host to the April 24-29 session. The General Assembly is the highest court of the Presbyterian Church, and it transacts much of its business through its "standing committee" that functions only as long as the Assembly is meeting.

Additional program speakers were Raymond C. McCarthy, Assistant Professor of Health Education, Yale University, Center for Alcohol Studies; Doctor Raymond Payne, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Georgia; Clemens Gains, Chief of the State Health Department, Maryland; Clifford Cole, Chief, Communicable Disease Services, U. S. Public Health Service, Region IV; Harold Taubine, Executive Director of the Metropolitan Planning Commission, Savannah. A panel discussion of tuberculosis was led by Dr. John Venable, Assistant Director of the Georgia Department of Public Health. BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Eugene DeLoach was hostess Thursday at one o'clock at a delightful bridge-luncheon, at her College Boulevard home, which was most attractively decorated. In the living room were arrangements of spirea and azalea in white milk glass containers. The table from which a delicious luncheon was served, was covered with an attractive striped cloth, centering this was a green bowl of white azaleas, dogwood blossoms and graceful ribbon grass. The luncheon was served buffet and consisted of ham with pineapple rings, cauliflower with cheese sauce, garden peas, sweet potato souffle, a crystal dish of hors d'oeuvres, aspic salad, tiny hot rolls, coffee and date nut loaf with lemon sauce.

JOLLY CLUB

The members of the Jolly Club were entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. F. Darley, at her Pembroke Road home, where Easter lilies, spirea and African Violets were used in decorating. These friends always have interesting contests and games, and prizes went to Mrs. W. W. Jones, Mrs. E. L. Mink, Mrs. B. W. Cowart, and Mrs. E. E. Price. Other guests were Mrs. J. O. Anderson, Mrs. W. T. Coleman, Mrs. W. W. Ratcliff, Mrs. R. F. Mink, and Mrs. Fred Bland. A salad course with coffee was served.

HALF-HIGH CLUB

Mrs. Ed Olliff was hostess to the Half-High Bridge Club Friday afternoon at her home on Moore Street, which was lovely with daffodils and other spring flowers. A salad course with coffee was served.

Mrs. Robert Lanier was winner of high score; Half-High went to Mrs. J. E. Forster, Jr.; Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman low and cut to Mrs. Zack Smith. Other players were, Mrs. Ed Allen, Mrs. Jack Wynn, Mrs. H. Smith Marsh, Mrs.

Soil-Water Conservation

By E. T. "Red" Mullis

Parm drainage is becoming an important problem with farmers of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District in Bulloch County. Heavy rains have caused a lot of low areas, natural ponds or depressions, and deep areas to be too wet to plow. This is especially true over the lower one-third of the county.

The Soil Conservation Service working through the Ogeechee River SCD is meeting this drainage problem head on. Solutions are being worked out for farmers as rapidly as possible, but time limitation is an important factor. It is like the old saying about the leaky roof: When it isn't raining you don't need it fixed, but when it rains you can't get out to fix it. Most folks, however, don't get their roofs fixed during dry weather.

It might be a good idea for co-operators to plan and construct their drainage systems during dry weather when it is easier and cheaper to do. We do not have to have water standing on the land to tell whether the land needs draining. With our instruments we can also get the best routes and outlets for the ditches.

Speaking of ditch outlets, brings up a very important subject in drainage. Co-operators have found that ditch outlets are just as important to proper drainage as the ditches themselves. They have found that they can't stop a ditch at the edge of the field in most cases, but must go on into the woods to get enough fall to take the water out of the field. There is one very bright piece of advice to do. We do not have to have water standing on the land to tell whether the land needs draining. With our instruments we can also get the best routes and outlets for the ditches.

Next week: Gair Woodland Nursery and Dewey Strickland look their drainage problems with tile drains.

MAKING COTTON PAY
(By Roy Powell, County Agent)

In spite of big reductions in the staple total cotton acreage, many Georgia farmers cashed out on a good number, too, are growing cotton and making it pay. Last year, for example, the 72 members of the Georgia Bule and a Half Cotton Club averaged 820 pounds of lint cotton per acre on 1,951 acres for an average return on land, management and equipment of $121.63 per acre. This is better than three and a half times the state average return per acre of $34.77.

EFFICIENCY IS KEY

Efficient production for increased yields is the key to profits from cotton. Here are the latest cotton production practices recommended by D. L. Branton, Extension Agronomist at Clayton.

Reports From WASHINGTON

THE CHANGING CONCEPT of warfare has raised some serious questions about the effectiveness of the military forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and their ability to repel any Soviet aggression in Europe.

The Military Operations Subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations recently completed a study of NATO's state of preparedness and its findings were not comforting. It reported that while the enemy "has vastly increased its own strength with nuclear weapons and long-range missiles," NATO forces still "are World War II armies, equipped largely with World War II weapons."

It termed this nation's failure to meet the challenge of "modern warfare" as "a major national disaster." It called for new military plans based on the use of nuclear weapons and "farsighted and imaginative action" to mobilize NATO resources which, in its words, "are only a potentiality to be realized."

To fail to do so, it emphasized, not only will mean that the United States will be forced to spend many billions of dollars in armament programs but even worse it will be to invite a disastrous defeat.

"The NATO forces must be re-equipped and reorganized if they are to survive and fight," it reported, as adopted by the parent Committee, stated.
